Community Music School
Music instruction and performing opportunities for children through adults

Music learning can be a lifelong journey, and to help begin that journey Central Michigan University’s School of Music is dedicated to providing quality music instruction to the mid-Michigan area. Instructors are undergraduate and graduate students, selected based on their experience and interest, and with the approval of their applied music professor.

Private Instrumental and Voice Lessons
Private instrumental lessons are offered to students age 6 through adults on piano, string, woodwind, brass, and percussion instruments. Voice lessons are offered to students age 13 through adults. Lessons may be arranged for 30, 45 or 60 minutes. All lessons are given in the School of Music.

Instructors: CMU School of Music students
Age: 6 through adult (piano, instrumental); 13 through adult (voice)
Lessons: Students receive 10 lessons
Schedule: Arranged at convenience of the teacher and student
Cost: • $150 – 30 minute lesson • $200 – 45 minute lesson • $250 – 60 minute lesson
